BUFFALO ANXIOUS FOR GAME

Big Crowd Will Turn Out to Welcome Bisons-Ross or Rhoades Will Oppose Lore Bader in Opening Clash.

Smith announced that he would use floss or Rhoades against the Bisons. Both are ready for the serious task before them, and Jarman and Hum-phreys are in shape to act in the role of emergency hurlers. If not used to-day, Humphreys will be poked into the fray to-morrow, while Olcason will be given another trial on Wed-nesday. Smith plans to use McKenry on Thursday if necessary. on Thursday if necessary.

The following dope came from Buffalo last night anent the opening:

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 14.—With the opening of the local International League season scheduled for to-morrow afternoon with the Bisons and Bill Smith's Richmond club as the opposing teams in the curtain attraction, Buffalo baseball fans are taking considerable interest in the 1915 race, and are already doping out the possible winner, figuring a place for Patsy Donovan's herd, despite the meek start of the Bisons. There are some who still maintain that Patsy will have the Bisons on top before the close of the season, whose a good many others seem contended to give the Herd a place in the first division.

Judging from the way Manager Donovan has already made shifts in his lipe-up and seeking new material to bolster up the weak spots on his team, his intentions are to give Buffalo a pennant winner and there are few who followed his style of play last year who fear a fall-down on the part of

The release of Walter Lonergan and addition of Bob Gill to the Bison in field may be an improvement. Local fans have seen Gill and are satisfied that he can class with some of the heat infielders in the International League. Just why Providence let him out to the Buffalo club is a mystery to the fans. It may have been the price that Manager Donovan offered for is release that dazzled the eyes of th a sight of the revamped Bisons. The fans of Buffalo are starved for base-ball this season, and are clamoring for the game to start. For the past two seasons they have had baseball practically continuously, and the absence of the pastime this season has been keenly felt.

The opening clash will start this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. It is practically certain that Lore Bader will oppose the Bilismiths, as he is in the best shape of any Buffalo hurlers, and his showing against the locals in the one defeat handed Richmond by Buffalo, shows that he has their number, or believes he does.

WESTERN TEAMS LOSE OUT IN INTERSECTIONAL CLASH

Work of Cleveland and Washington Continues Good—Brooklyn and Ciney Drop Back—Giants Improve.

The first intersectional clash of the 1916 season of the National and American Leagues resulted in favor of the Eastern clubs. Including Saturday, the Eastern teams last week won twenty games and lost fifteen.

In the National League the East won nine and the West six; in the American the East won eleven and the West nine. There were changes of importance in the league standings during the week. Cleveland and Washington continued their winning gait in the American League. Brooklyn and Boston, the National League leaders, did not do as well, but managed to retain their places.

The feature of the week in the National League was the winning of four straight games by New York from Pittsburgh. McGraw's corps showed improvement in every department.

Brooklyn lost two of its four games by one run, and one of them after thirteen innings. Robertson's men did not hit as timely as previously. Boston kept up its good work, due to some steady work on the mound and opportune hitting.

The heavy hitting of Zimmerman and Williams was the outstanding point of

New York and St. Louis each won four games and lost one. The Gjants and the Cardinals braced in all departments. Anderson, the former Federal star, with the Giants, held Pittsburgh to three hits on Friday.

In the American League Philadelphia and Detroit, in their series at Philadelphia, gave an unusual exhibition of baseball. On Tuesday three Athletic pitchers and two Tiger boxmen gave a total of thirty bases on balls, a new major league record. The previous record was twenty-four in one game. On Friday twenty bases on balls were given, but still the teams battled for eleven innings, Detroit winning, 8 to 6. During the series eighty-five bases on balls were given, but still the teams battled for eleven innings, Detroit winning, 8 to 6. During the series eighty-five bases on balls were given.

Cleveland did not crumple before the Eastern teams, The Indians broke even with the Red Sox and took one game from the Yankees.

The hitting of Speaker was a big help. Washington recovered from its losing streak and won four straight games the latter part of the week.

Good pitching alone gave New York its three victories, Mogridge, a newcomer, held Boston to three hits on Monday and held Chicago to two hits on Friday. Nick Cullop gained the other victory by allowing Chicago only three hits on Thursday.

Detroit and Philadelphia improved on the previous week's work. The Mackmen moved out of last place on Saturday by defeating St. Louis, the Browns taking the cellar position. Hoston broke even on the week, while Chicago and St. Louis displayed few signs of improvement.

Thursday saw six games won by one run in the major leagues, divided
